Town Council.

Will Contract for the Drilling of an Artesian Well.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening to consider an offer made by Mr. Gardner of Redcliff to drill an artesian well. Those present included Mayor Reid, Councillors Swennumson, Hurd, Oliver and Blaine.

The Mayor having invited the representative of the press to a seat at the table, Councillor Swennumson issued an invitation to the local scribe "to come and tell us 'Whither we are drifting.'" A discussion of this debatable subject was, however, promptly cut short by the Mayor intimating that the matter for consideration that evening was one of drilling, and asked the secretary to read a letter received from Mr. Gardner.

In effect, Mr. Gardner's offer was to drill a well, casing the surface off about 200 feet with four and a half inch standard iron pipe, balance of casing to the artesian flow to be three inch standard iron pipe. The price per foot will be $3.50, including the casing, the town to pay $125 in excess of the cost of drilling.

It is understood that in case of failing to reach an artesian flow, Mr. Gardner will receive no money other than the $125 already mentioned, which includes the cost of hauling, freight, etc.

Councillors Blaine and Hurd both spoke in favor of the proposition, the latter finally making the following motion:—

That the offer of Mr. Gardner to drill artesian well for $3.50 per foot and extra $125 for expenses be accepted and that we ask the solicitor to draw up the contract.

This was seconded by Councillor Oliver and carried unanimously.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Review is again requested to read to readers that the annual meeting of the Bow Island Red Cross will take place on Friday, October 4th and a big attendance of the members is requested.

HELP THE BOYS "OVER THERE" BY SAVING GASOLINE

The allies need gasoline. Waste none of it on Sunday motoring for pleasure. He who uses it for this purpose allies those who are fighting our battles. It is the duty of all motor car owners to comply with the Fuel Controller's request to save "gas."

The safety of the State being the supreme law, personal enjoyment must give place to national necessity during war time. To save gasoline is to save money. It will also ensure a more adequate supply of "gas" for the needs of our war machine, which must lack no essential. To conserve oil and Fuel Controller's request will save $150,000 on a single day in gasoline it will also save hundreds of thousands of saloons & word to the wise motor car owner is sufficient!

The Armies Of the Air

British and American Flying Squadrons Will Complete Task of Allied Armies

That the fighting airplanes being built in the United States will soon fly across the Atlantic and strike the enemy in Europe is a certainty, according to the London Observer. It believes that rapidly flying the air on a deliberately regular and extensive scale will open the eyes of the German people. When the allied squadrons, including and including in a German phrase, extend their military operations to the very heart and center of Germany, the whole nation will begin to bring forth fruits meet for repentance, and amendment. And should the first crossing of the ocean extending but now being Atlantic be accomplished by an American flying force, it will be followed by a series of flights, for the American people, it is being discovered by European observers, are not so slow as they seem.

The British development of the air service has been an achievement which could not be fitted all at once with wonder and pride in the very heart and center of Germany, the whole nation will begin to bring forth fruits meet for repentance, and amendment. And should the first crossing of the ocean extending but now being Atlantic be accomplished by an American flying force, it will be followed by a series of flights, for the American people, it is being discovered by European observers, are not so slow as they seem.

Together, the British and American flying squadrons are to shorten and to complete the task of the allied armies.

The two great ideas now about to come into the air are the direct flying of the Atlantic and the flying machine. The flying machine is being built in London and Paris and has been brought to the front. Neither of these things may be done tomorrow. Both will be done with certainty. When they are done, the new hope for the future of mankind will be the flying machine will be flown not by single airmen, but by squadrons as surely as the blent first.

Let no one think that the present project is a matter of mere speculation and adventure, said the Observer. It is one of the most important and most difficult of modern times. The flying machine will be flown not by single airmen, but by squadrons as surely as the blent first. For the war, however, the vital affair is that the German people should come over on their own. The flying machine will be flown not by single airmen, but by squadrons as surely as the blent first. What has become, for the German soldier, a symbol of shame is now to become the badge of honor of the British soldier. King George has given his approval of a badge, in the form of a sword, to be worn on the left sleeve of officers and soldiers who have been in the front lines of the fighting. The badge is a sword, and is to be worn on the left sleeve of officers and soldiers who have been in the front lines of the fighting.

The enormous demand for linen for covering aeroplanes has rapidly absorbed the visible supply of the world, and it may be years before this material can be again brought at a reasonable price.

Tone System Key to Wireless Sound Waves Travel 192,000 Miles Per Second

The popular mind has invested wireless telegraphy with a magic and a mystery that facts scarcely justify. The main principle is really very simple and is exemplified in the most everyday occurrence. Take, for example, the human voice. When a person speaks, he causes his vocal chords to vibrate. These vibrations travel through the air as sound waves. These sound waves, traveling at the rate of 192,000 miles per second, cause the eardrums of the hearer to vibrate in sympathy with the vibrations of the speaker's vocal chords. This is the principle of wireless telegraphy.

Something very similar happens in wireless telegraphy. Corresponding to the speaker in the wireless sending apparatus is the receiving apparatus. The sending apparatus emits waves that impinge on the receiving apparatus and make it vibrate.

But the wireless waves are electric waves, not sound waves, and cannot be apprehended by our eye or our ear. They are of a frequency which is many times greater than the frequency of the human voice, and transforms these silent waves into a tone which is available for our ear.

When you tune a violin and strike the E string of the violin, say, the vibrations of the string will vibrate and hum in sympathy. The vibrations of the string will vibrate in response to the E string of the violin. This is the principle of wireless telegraphy.

Rats—The Eleventh Plague of the Trenches

They are a Constant Torment to the Soldier

A brigade commander along the communication trench to battalion headquarters and handed the adjutant a despatch. "I have a message for you," he said. "It is from the adjutant of the 1st Battalion. He says that the rats are a constant torment to the soldiers. They are everywhere in the trenches. They are eating the food and the clothing. They are making the soldiers very uncomfortable. He asks you to do something about it."

There was a pause. The commander looked at the despatch. He was a man of a certain age, with a white mustache and a white hair. He was a man of a certain age, with a white mustache and a white hair. He was a man of a certain age, with a white mustache and a white hair.

Fiendish Cruelty By Germans

Wounded Men Killed by Jets of Liquid Fire—Victims Were

The first details have been officially published of gross outrages, perpetrated upon British prisoners and wounded men by the German forces. The facts are authenticated by sworn statements of British soldiers who were of the party to create private of the Royal. Highlanders tried to save the lives of a number of comrades who were surrounded and compelled to surrender near Monchy on March 28. The rifles and equipment were taken from them. They were then taken to a trench and left without a guard for some time. Then a German officer and two men appeared on the edge of the trench. One man carried a container on his back and the other was armed with a rifle and short bayonet. The officer gave an order, and the man with the container turned a stream of liquid fire straight down the trench. The men who were standing there, plainly see we were unarmed, but he continued to play on for five or seven minutes.

The witness added that he and his comrades were able to move scrambled down a communication trench and got over the top to the British lines.

Another private says that after he and his comrades were taken to a trench and left without a guard for some time. Then a German officer and two men appeared on the edge of the trench. One man carried a container on his back and the other was armed with a rifle and short bayonet. The officer gave an order, and the man with the container turned a stream of liquid fire straight down the trench. One had no rifle or equipment, but he was standing there, plainly see we were unarmed, but he continued to play on for five or seven minutes. The witness added that he and his comrades were able to move scrambled down a communication trench and got over the top to the British lines.

German Papers Admit Figures Are Right

Although Only About 150,000 American Ships Have Been "Noticed"

At least the German press has given up struggling against the truth. The figures which appear in virtually all the papers, the official figures of the German press, the reluctant admission is made regarding the strength of the American forces in France are about correct. One or two papers add the same explanation that their former figures were based on the supposition prior to May, and that the really big shipments of men from America began since then.

The papers now comfort themselves with the thought that of the 1,200,000 or more Americans, only 400,000 are actually in the battle area, with 300,000 behind the front and the remaining 600,000 are in the rear. The Berlin Tagesspiegel Rundschau adds as its own information that no more than 150,000 Germans have up to the present been "noticed" on the western front.

The anxiety of the German war correspondent is very apparent. He is very anxious to impress the home reader with the fact that the German forces are not being overwhelmed by the fighting spirit of the British. The correspondent writes that on August 16 and 17 the British attacked the German lines. The enemy came to close quarters. The German forces were not overwhelmed. The British forces were not overwhelmed. The German forces were not overwhelmed. The British forces were not overwhelmed.

Jim the Chinaman was Given Till Dusk to Leave Town.

Some excitement was created in Winnifred on Tuesday night by a report being circulated that one of the Chinamen in town had been detected conducting an evil practice. Considerable feeling was aroused and for some time matters looked exceedingly serious for Mr. Chink. Inquiries made by some of the residents left no doubt as to the reliability of the report and immediate notice was served on him, to "quit" town. He was seen shortly afterwards running through the north part of the town.

In the meantime a crowd had gathered around his emporium and very little vigilance was sufficient to induce some of the whippersnappers to break in and reduce the contents of the place to matchwood. Someone then suggested that the Chinaman be tarred and feathered. This was sufficient.
Whilst a party collected tar and feathers, another was collecting rotten eggs, whilst a third party procured a kerosene and kerosene. This properly prepared a decent was made upon the Chink's emporium in town where the victim was supposed to be in hiding.

A search, however, proved unavailing and the tar and feather corps was obliged to disperse without the discovery of their quarry. Several, however, state that $25 was sufficient to temporarily blind the one conducting the search. But of this more anon.

It was afterwards ascertained that,
feeling the coast "clear," the offending Chink boarded the midnight train and was finally given refuge in the colony
at Bow Island.

Burdett.

From an advertisement appearing elsewhere in these columns it will appear that a meeting of the ratepayers will take place on Wednesday, October 2nd, in the Majestic theatre, to consider school matters. Further complications have occurred through the resignation of Geo. Lomas, who finds it impossible to take up the duties of Trustee.

It is hoped that everyone who can possibly do so will attend this meeting and help solve the problem that has presented itself.

Mrs. Stickney of Morrin, Alta.
is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bath.

Geo. Thacker has threshed 1685 bushels.

It is with very much regret that we have to announce this week the death of Mrs. M. A.
Bowe, one of the old pioneers of our district, which took place
at Medicine Hat on Sunday, September 22nd, in her sixtieth year. The funeral took place on Thursday at ten o'clock.

Henry Rygg has purchased three lots in block 27 with the intention of putting up a house.

Art Lindquist, member of the Burdett Athletic Club, has found the climbing of the hills too strenuous an exercise and has consequently withdrawn from his membership.

Mr. C. T. Mackinnon and Miss
Powell spent last Sunday at G.
Olson's.

W. Perry purchased last week
at Lethbridge a D 84 Reo car,
one of the latest models.

The Sunday school of the Methodist church gave a hard time social on Thursday evening last which proved to be the greatest success given in Burdett for some time. It was held in the Majestic theatre, which was packed to its utmost capacity.

The program was very interesting, especially the boys' orchestra, and also the B Square orchestra. Games were played during the evening and at the close refreshments were served,
which consisted of tomato soup
and crackers. Prizes were offered for the best costumes. Pearl Bakken received the ladies'
prize, Dorothy Brown the boys', and the girls' prize in pair of silk socks. This was equally divided between Mr. Hutchings and Mr. McGuire. Jug Llewellyn made an A No. 1 policeman and collected a considerable amount in fines, assisted by Miss Anderson as judge.
The party broke up at a late hour, and everyone voted the evening a great success and hoped we would soon have another.

W. D. Anderson, Major Small
Miss L. Anderson and Mrs. J. E.
Campbell motored to Medicine Hat on Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs. Anderson.

A. H. Rygg left on Friday for Rochester, Minn., where he is consulting with the Mayo's.

A few young people dropped in at the home of W. J. Maxwell on Monday evening and spent a very enjoyable time.

An especially good program
has been arranged for Burdett's Chautauqua on October 7th, 8th and 9th. The tickets are selling remarkably well.

Local and General.

Mrs. A. Flammie delightfully entertained the members of the Catholic Altar Society and several other invited guests, on Thursday afternoon, September 10th, in her beautiful new home. Remarks of admiration were freely expressed at the beauty and convenience embodied in this modern home with its gas, electric lights and excellent water system. The afternoon was spent in doing Red Cross work. Delightful music was furnished by Mrs. Spear, Mrs. Paterson and Mrs. Baines. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and enjoyed by the twenty-five assembled guests. The day's collection was given to the K. of C. drive fund, together with a donation from the Altar Society's treasury, amounting in all to forty dollars. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Flammie for her kind hospitality.

The Rally Day service at Festle Blaine has been postponed until the last Sunday in October.

St. Andrew's (United) Church.—Everybody will be made welcome at the regular service Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Mrs. V. M. Gilbert will give her address on "The Effect of Missions on Heathen Womanhood." At the close of the service a vote of the congregation will be taken on the use of the "offertory prayer."

The ladies of All Saints' church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Martin on Thursday next.

RED CROSS WORKERS! PLEASE NOTE.—There will be no meeting of the Red Cross on Wednesday next, as the annual meeting will be on Friday, October 4th, and election of officers take place for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warner of Lethbridge returned home last Sunday after a week's visit with the families of J. P. Pears and A. M. Peterson, acquaintanceship with whom was formed when residing in Dakota.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute held on Saturday last, the resignation of Mrs. MacWilliams as secretary was accepted, and Mrs. E. C. Ludke was elected in her place.

On Saturday next, September 20th, the Women's Institute will "tag" in behalf of the Child Welfare Program of the Alberta Social Service League. The object is obvious and everyone is earnestly requested to assist in making this day as successful as possible. Give freely and give generously for the little one.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Hurst returned last Friday from an automobile trip through some of the western states, included in which was a pleasant visit to the Glacier Park.

Mrs. T. R. Blaine accompanied her sister, Miss Smith, last week to Great Falls. She expects to return this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brown returned on Wednesday from a visit to Calgary.

The next meeting of the Bow Island U.F.A. will be held in the rest room on October 5th, and will be a combination social for the benefit of its own and the members of the U.F.W.A. It is hoped a full attendance will be recorded.

The Kilgus house south of the track has been rented by Mr. and Mrs. Tomstall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn have received the welcome news from Vancouver of their son Fred's partial recovery from his previously dangerous state.

The K. of C. drive in and around Bow Island was a marked success. Over $1000 has been collected. Considering the conditions this year the result is greeted by the local committee with the liveliest satisfaction and pleasure.

Mrs. J. Scott of Ronalane has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Martin, during the past week.

As the Rev. G. Herring will be away attending a conference at Pincher Creek, no service will be held at All Saints' on Sunday next.

The obliteration of the weedy ornamental denaturing one public street which took place this week has resulted in a marked improvement.

The Town Council decided this week to accept an offer to put down an artesian well. In this our local body will receive the cordial support of the ratepayers. It appears in every way to be a reasonably safe, sound and business-like proposition. In the first place it will relieve the town of the necessity of contributing $300 a year to a private concern for the public watering trough, and in the second place it will, it is hoped, give us a supply of water for fire protection purposes. There is, of course, an element of chance, but so much success has already been achieved in the district that a flowing well for Bow Island seems a by no means remote possibility. The idea of the Council we believe, is to drill the well at the west end of Main Street, somewhere near the park, and if a sufficient supply of water is obtained, to connect it with the present main and run the water into a trough at the east end of Main Street.

Dr. H. Mecklenburg, the well-known eyeglass specialist of Edmonton, will make his next visit to Bow Island hotel on Friday, October 4th, and Burdett drug store on Thursday, Oct. 3rd. See him about your eyes if you want to see well.—Advt.

Will those having relatives at the front enlisted from this district please send in their names, with full particulars to regiment, etc., to the secretary (Mrs. W. J. Oliver) of the Bow Island Red Cross, as a list is now being made up of those who are to receive Christmas parcels.

Lieut. J. L. Trotman, R.A.F., was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. Schenert previous to his departure overseas.

T. L. Parker, president of the Winifred Agricultural Society, was in town on Monday making arrangements to hold an institute meeting in the Oddfellows' hall about Oct. 25th.

Kitchener was right

when he said—

"Either the Civilian population must go short of many things to which it is accustomed in times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them."

NOW, the only way we can possibly live up to that obligation is by going without in order that our soldiers may have. For the money we waste is not money at all—it is equipment, clothing, shot and shell that are urgently needed in France. By denying ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war. What happens when we fail to save? A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by the people in the opposite direction. Hundreds of millions of dollars are of no use to the country if goods and services can be secured only to the extent of eighty millions of dollars. So we must do everything in our power to release both goods and labor for the purposes for which Canada needs them.

WHETHER it be food, coal, wool, steel, leather, labor or transportation, the result in all cases is the same. Whoever competes with the nation by freely satisfying his own desires, selfishly appropriates to his own use that which is so urgently required for our fighting men in France.

For the sake of your country and the boys "over there," spend cautiously. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, and ask yourself first, "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?"
